MORRIS'S DIRECTORY

for CHINA, JAPAN

and THE PHILIPPINES, &c.

1869.

THE above Work is now PUBLISHED AND READY FOR CIRCULATION.

Hongkong, January 13, 1869.

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 24, 1869.

The approaching departure of Mr Ball for England has naturally given rise to some little speculation as to who will be his successor as Judge of the Summary Jurisdiction Court. There is no lack either of aspirants for the post, nor of duly qualified men to take it, though it is possible that the former class exceeds the latter in number. The Ordinance under which the Summary Court is constituted empowers the Governor, "in case of the death, temporary illness, or absence" of the judge, to appoint "any fit and proper person temporarily to discharge the duties of the said office," and it is a matter of much importance that the qualification here described be strictly insisted on.

The judge himself must be "a barrister at law in England or Ireland or an advocate in Scotland not less than five years standing," so his locum tenens should, if possible, fulfil the same conditions.

There is of course no definition of what may constitute "fitness" in the eyes of the Governor, but we have no reason to suppose that he would select an unqualified person, while at least four qualified men could be found in the Colony to whom the offer could be made.

It would be premature to speculate as to who will be Judge Ball's successor.

But one necessity in appointing an Acting Judge cannot be overlooked: a certainty that he is acquainted with Chinese habits and not liable to the imposition which native litigants so frequently attempt. The advantage possessed by a Magistrate or Judge who understands the by-play which so constantly goes on in Canton, who can accurately estimate the value of evidence as given and not as translated, is acknowledged on all sides.

We need qualified officers more plentifully than they are, the administration of justice in this Colony would be vastly facilitated.

It is satisfactory to find that the Chamber of Commerce, having taken up the opium squeeze question in real earnest, has succeeded in drawing the attention of the authorities to the abuses which existed.

The subjoined correspondence, with copy of which we have been favored, speaks for itself, and the Chamber may be to a certain extent congratulated on the result of its action, as the abolition of search at sea is decreed, and this is something gained. But we do not notice that anything is said by the Viceroy on the subject of the Lekin Tax. The stock arguments on both sides of this question are familiar to our readers. All foreigners are compelled to admit that if China is entitled to the "rights" of an independent power, her Government may levy a tax of a thousand dollars per chest upon opium if she chooses, where the drug is not owned by foreigners. By Treaty, foreigners pay an import tax of thirty taels per picul only. But the advocates of Chinese privileges (in one sense justifi-cably) assert that the moment it is out of foreign possession we have nothing further to say. The position we have taken up is that to which all arguments involving a free right of taxation on the part of Chinese invariably come—that if it unduly harasses us we should not allow that right.

True we have no "right" to interfere, but our residence at the open ports is no more justifiable than our interference with the Chinese tariff. It is quite as much opposed to the wishes of the Chinese authorities, but it suited us to insist upon it, and we did so. We are quite aware that this style of policy is called "bullying." But it is the only course to pursue, and we do not care to chop arguments in view of the history of our past relations with China.

We trust that the Chamber will not rest to bring the question to the notice of the Chinese authorities, with an urgent request that the grievances complained of may be removed.

It is stated that an exaction of $125 per chest is levied under the head of the Lekin tax; in addition to which, the aid of cruiers and custom houses established in close proximity to the island, another tax of 15 (equivalent to $22 per picul) is further exacted. Such proceedings being allowed, and the fact that trading junks are subject to be overhauled as soon as they leave the harbour itself, it may be acknowledged places the Colony in a worse trading position than any of the treaty ports.

In substantiation of the statements above referred to, the Chamber have been furnished with a copy of a memorial addressed to His Excellency some weeks since from a Chinese Hong (上環和發行 i.e. Woo-fat-hong) bearing upon the same subject, the contents of which will doubtless be fresh in the memory of His Excellency, and to which therefore it is needless now to revert.

Feeling that the trade of the Colony is thus being hampered in one of its most important branches, in what cannot be otherwise termed than an unwarrantable manner, the Committee of the Chamber would urgently request the prompt interference of His Excellency in a matter affecting so closely the welfare of the Colony over which he presides.

I have the honor to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) W. J. BYRANS,

Chairman.

No. 66.

COLONIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE,

17th February, 1869.

SIR,—I have submitted to His Excellency

Sir Richard Graves MacDonnell your letter of the 10th instant, and am directed to state in reply, that nearly all the points ad-verted to in your communication have been brought to the notice of the Chinese authorities through the medium of Her Masesty's Consul at Canton. It is already several weeks since the Acting Registrar General was directed by His Excellency to proceed to Canton, accompanied by the witnesses required to prove some of the outrages which were then being frequently inflicted on the persons and cargoes of legitimate peaceful traders in Chinese vessels clearing from this Port.

The result of the investigation thus held at Canton at the instance of His Excellency has been to substantiate even to the satisfaction of the Chinese Authorities the reality and serious extent of the outrages in question.

Under these circumstances it is satisfactory to find that the Vice-Roy has already taken active measures to terminate the unjust and harassing system of squeezing, frequently accompanied by violence, which had been practiced on native traders from this Colony; and that he
